

Click on the Author Filter to find your student...

Brune Health Education 300 1st Semester 2011 - 2012 (2012-0001 BR720)

Period 5 Digital Citizenship

Recent Entries (1 to 8 of 23) Next >

DIGITAL CITIZENSHIP

Posted by Patrick Gabrielson on 11/17/2011 at 1:36 PM, EST.
Tags: None

Cyber bullying is Bullying or making fun of others behind the computer. If you are being bullied you should contact the person to stop or block the bully and tell an adult if it's on going. One way to make sure you are not a bully is that if you have nothing nice to say, don't say it at all. One way to show respect to people on line is to treat them the way you want to be treated. If you disagree with someone you should just keep it to yourself and discuss it with others. When chatting online you can show respect to other buy being nice and genuine.

I am going to share with you a personal story about someone I know that was cyber bullied online and was hurt and wasn't sure what to do. The bully would make fun of and harass the person frequently that the person was getting frustrated and could not deal with it anymore, so the person told an adult and they blocked the bully and he wasn't harassed again. As for the cyber bully he was caught for making fun of one of his classmates not only did he get in trouble with the school he got in trouble with the police to, so if you think of sending something hurtful or bad think of what would happen if you told it to their face or if someone sent it to your mom or dad then you would realize that it's just not worth it. CYBER BULLYING POWER POINT.pptx

Viewer Comments \(1\)

Cyber bullying
Made by Anonymous User on 12/12/2011 at 12:12 PM, EST.

This is very good! People should never ever bully if it is cyber bullying or bullying. It is very very hurtful of calling people names and making rumors. I really like your power point it was very detailed.

Reply

Filters
Author Filter:

Recent Entries
DIGITAL CITIZENSHIP
3 weeks ago, 11/17/2011
Digital Citizenship
3 weeks ago, 11/17/2011
Digital Citizenship
3 weeks ago, 11/17/2011
Digital Citizenship
3 weeks ago, 11/17/2011
Digital Citizenship
3 weeks ago, 11/17/2011

Tags
No tags

Click on Add a Comment to respond to their posts. Remember: One thing you liked, one thing you learned!